

'A glittering galloping musical '

Roald Dahl presents his irreverent Revolting Rhymes in the story of 'Snow White and the seven dwarfs'. Snow White's mother dies and her father the King advertises for a new bride. He ends up choosing Miss Maclahose, who brings to the castle with her a "magic talking looking glass." It always provides the correct answer to any question you ask. For ten years, every day the Queen asks it "Who is the fairest of them all?" The answer is always herself. One day, though, it says that Snow White is prettier. The Queen is furious and orders a huntsman to kill her. In the forest, the huntsman lets her go. Meanwhile, Snow White hitches a ride to the city and gets a job as a maid for seven little men. They're all ex-jockeys and they spend all their money betting on horses down at the track. She tells them she has an idea for them to have more money... What could this idea be? Will she need the help of the huntsman? Will she lend them some money? Or will she steal an element which is not hers?

We would like to thank everybody who worked in the preparation of this musical: actors, actresses, musicians, Junior choir, parents and teachers. We hope you can enjoy performers' talent and passion for arts and music.
